ABOUT ME

I am a 19-year-old Computer Science student at the University of Craiova, currently completing the first year of my Bachelor's degree. My passion lies at the intersection of technology and creativity, driving my ambition to become a game developer or web developer. While I enjoy the logical and algorithmic challenges that computer science presents, I am equally drawn to the artistic and imaginative aspects of development, allowing me to create innovative and engaging digital experiences.

In addition to my academic pursuits, I am proactive in seeking opportunities to expand my skills and experiences. Whether it's through personal projects, collaborations, or internships, I strive to apply my knowledge in practical settings, continually refining my abilities in programming, problem-solving, and creative design.

Key Attributes:

- Passionate and Driven: Committed to pursuing a career in game and web development, combining technical proficiency with creative vision.
- Collaborative and Communicative: Enjoys working in team environments, leveraging diverse perspectives to enhance project outcomes.
- Culturally Aware: Experience with international study programs, fostering a global mindset and adaptability to different working environments.

As I continue my journey in computer science, I am excited about the opportunities to apply my skills in real-world projects and make meaningful contributions to the field of technology. My ultimate goal is to develop software that not only solves problems but also delights and inspires users.

HOBBIES AND INTERESTS

Indoor activities In addition to my professional activities in the field of software engineering and web development, I concentrate on various hobbies that provide me with rich personal and professional growth.

As an avid gamer and avid streamer, I not only enjoy immersive gaming experiences, but also use my platform to foster community engagement and share insights on gaming culture and industry trends.

Outdoor activities In addition to my digital pursuits, I find solace and adventure in nature and often find myself joining my local scouts group through outdoor activities such as hiking and camping, promoting teamwork and resilience.

My passion for the arts drives my active participation in local festivals, where I engage in acting, music, and visual arts. Additionally, frequent museum visits serve as inspiring journeys of discovery, deepening my knowledge and commitment to the creative fields.

These diverse interests not only foster my creativity and adaptability, but also foster a broad perspective that enhances my problem solving and collaboration skills in the dynamic field of technology.

VOLUNTEERING

Craiova

Cercetasii Romaniei During my tenure with the scout group, which commenced in 5th grade and concluded in 11th grade due to shifting academic priorities, I honed a diverse set of skills integral to effective communication and teamwork. Engaging in week-long hikes and collaborative endeavors within the scout community cultivated my ability to communicate effectively, adapt to dynamic environments, and collaborate with peers towards common objectives. Additionally, my involvement in organizing prominent events such as "Festivalul luminii" provided invaluable experience in project management, event coordination, and logistical planning. These experiences not only enriched my personal development but also underscored my commitment to contributing meaningfully to community initiatives.

Craiova

Shakespeare Festival My involvement in the Shakespeare Festival, where I volunteered, provided an enriching opportunity to refine essential skills, particularly in communication, organization, and event management. Throughout my engagement, which spanned from assisting with distributing promotional materials to aiding international actors in navigating the city and attending to their logistical needs, I honed my ability to communicate effectively and adapt to diverse cultural contexts. Moreover, actively participating in decorating various festival stages underscored my attention to detail and creative flair. These experiences not only broadened my perspective but also reinforced my dedication to contributing meaningfully to collaborative endeavors and community initiatives.
